Clinical pharmacy

ESCP states that clinical pharmacy “aims to optimise the utilisation of medicines through practice and research in order to achieve person-centered goals”.

- 1 represents both a professional practice and field of research.
- 2 aims to optimise the utilisation of medicines in order to achieve person-centred and public health goals.
- 3 as a practice encompasses cognitive, managerial and interpersonal activities targeting all stages of the medicines use process, and as a field of research generates knowledge that informs clinical decision-making, health care organisations and policy.
- 4 as a practice is restricted to members of the pharmacy team.
- 5 can be practised regardless of setting.
- 6 encompasses pharmaceutical care but is not restricted to it.

Our Vision

ESCP is an international leader in advancing quality and innovation in clinical pharmacy education, practice and research.

Our Mission

ESCP is an organization that promotes, supports, implements and advances education, practice and research in clinical pharmacy in order to optimize outcomes for patients and society.
